Seminar Practice

Zoom

Goal:

In addition to your course materials, students will learn how to use industry-standard tools through the use of practice during seminar.

Seminar Practice

Zoom

In seminar, it is expected that you will interact...

Let's practice a few tools that can help you interact in this virtual environment

Seminar Practice

Zoom

Using the Chat in Zoom, answer the following question:

If you were a kitchen appliance, which one would you be and why?

Within Zoom locate the menu bar and click on Chat to expand/collapse the chat

Seminar Practice

Zoom

Using the Reactions in Zoom, select your favorite reaction.

For instruction, please also note these reactions that not easily apparent:

Within Zoom locate the menu bar and click on Reactions to expand/collapse the Reaction menu and select your reaction

Seminar Practice

Zoom

Using the Reactions in Zoom, raise your hand.

When you have a question, in addition to using the chat or reactions, this is a great way to alert me of your question!

Within Zoom locate the menu bar and click on Reactions to expand/collapse the Reaction menu and select Raise Hand.

Why Interaction?:

Providing interaction is a quick interim assessment allowing me to gauge where everyone is at with the content. Also, it allows me the ability to provide an online kinesthetic learning experience for those types of learners.

Expectations

In class and online

Expectations

In class (Seminar)

- Please interact in each session
- Please do not delete other's work maliciously
- Please do not post, refer to, or otherwise call attention to insensitive or inappropriate work
- Please act in accordance with the handbook

Expectations

Online

- Please log in every day (if possible) or at a minimum every other day to stay on top of the content
- Please post in that week's discussion board on three different days to receive credit
  - The first post must be made by Saturday at 11:59pm ET
- In the discussion boards, initial posts (unless explicitly directed otherwise) require a reference
- Please ensure you plan your calendar correctly - we will operate this class on an ET schedule for deadlines
- Please communicate frequently with me regarding assignments, deadlines, and struggles (or wins!)

Scavenger Hunt

Proposed Weekly Study Schedule

Proposed Weekly Study Schedule

Each week, I'll put in a suggested pacing guide to help you progress adequately throughout the course, while giving grace to the other commitments you have at Purdue Global and in your daily lives. You do not have to use the pacing guide; however, it is strongly recommended that you do so. Should you need to work ahead of this module because of life circumstances, please email me directly at nicholas.mahoney@purdueglobal.edu.

Looking Ahead

Seminar 2

Please be prepared to use ChatGPT or similar tool to help with seminar 2 and your future studies.

- Go to the website: <https://openai.com/index/chatgpt/> (for ChatGPT)
- You can use this service for free, but you may eventually be asked to sign up for an account.
- Other AI you may want to try:
  - CoPilot (I find this pretty similar in functionality to ChatGPT, though it can't render Python code where ChatGPT can)
  - Gemini (good for searching)
  - Claude (better for math and coding)
- Different AI are optimized for different tasks, so you may want to experiment to find the best one for what you need
